DEBT DRIVE SUCCESSFUL

Pacific Meets First Requirement For Rockefeller $250,000 Pledge

GIFTS OF $25,000 AND $35,000
FOR MEMORIALS HELP
SWELL TOTAL

Money sufficient to meet all debts and obligations was in the bank on July third, according to an announcement made by Dr. John L. Burcham, vice-president of the College and general chairman of the recent campaign. The first requirement for obtaining the General Education Board's gift of $250,000 has thus been met by the College.

The second requirement—$500,000 additional endowment—has been partially met, and an extension of time has been granted by the Board to finish this project. When complete, the College will have an endowment of one million dollars.

High lights of the campaign were the gifts of Thomas F. Baxter, chairman of the Board of Trustees, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Anderson of Los Gatos, and Mrs. Benjamin Holt of Stockton. Mr. Anderson and Mrs. Holt are also members of the Board of Trustees.

Baxter Field

Baxter's gift was for twenty-five thousand dollars, which is in addition to his gift of the airplane and hanger. By an agreement with the administration, this money will be used for paying the expenses incurred by the building of the stadium, and the bowl will be named Baxter Field at an appropriate service on Homecoming Day next fall.

The Anderson gift was for thirty-five thousand dollars, and will go toward paying for the Social Hall. This building will be renamed as a memorial to the donors.

Mrs. Holt's gift was for twenty-five thousand dollars, but the purposes for which it will be used has not as yet been decided.

Board Receives Credit

To the Board of Trustees goes the greatest credit for putting over the difficult task. Inspired by their Chairman, Mr. Baxter, they gave liberally, and encouraged others to do so, also. Close to one hundred and fifty thousand dollars was raised from this group.

In spite of adverse conditions, the church and Alumni groups came through quite well, although not up to expectations. The feeling among the staff, however, is that there has never been a period in the history of the school when Pacific has been held in as high esteem by the citizens of Northern California as at the present time. Poor conditions and not lack of friendship was felt to be the cause of the only fair showing of these two groups.

Pacific Awards 123 Degrees at 72nd Graduation

One hundred and twenty-three degrees were awarded at the Seventy-second annual Commencement of the College of the Pacific, held on Monday, June tenth, in the college auditorium. Of these, ninety-five were Bachelor of Arts degrees, fifteen were Bachelor of Music, eleven were Master of Arts, one was Master of Music, and one was the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws, awarded to Robert Eccles Swain, Acting-President of Stanford University.

The speaker of the occasion was Bishop Charles Wesley Burns, of the San Francisco Area, who dwelt on the need for cultural institutions as opposed to those that deal exclusively with vocational subjects.

Features of the affair were the awarding of degrees to Gordon Knoles, son of President Knoles, and to Edgar Jacobs, the son of a classmate of President Knoles. Miss Alma Williams, '22, was awarded the first Master of Music degree earned in course.

Previous to the graduation exercise, the functions of the week had been the recital of the senior music students with the orchestra, on Friday night, Alumni Day and the President's reception on Saturday, and the Baccalaureate Sermon on Sunday. The attendance at all these functions exceeded the attendance of preceding years, and indicated the interest which the Commencement season arouses among the friends and Alumni of the College.

George Burcham Accepts Evanston Church Position

George Burcham, '25, has just been appointed director of religious education at First Methodist Church, Evanston, Illinois. In June of this year George received his S. T. B. degree at the Garrett Biblical Institute at Northwestern University.

Dr. Ernest S. Tittle is the pastor of this church, which is the largest in Evanston, the one attended by the students at Northwestern University. The work of the student group at this church is quite outstanding, the Sunday evening services being eliminated, and the evening period is under the direction of the students.

George is spending the summer with his parents in Stockton and will leave the latter part of August to take up his duties in this new capacity.

NEW SECRETARY

BERNIECE FIOLO, '28

who has been elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Alumni Association.

Spanish School, Visitors, Feature Summer Session

Close to two hundred and twenty-five have completed registration for Pacific Summer Session, according to C. E. Corbin, Registrar. This exceeds by almost fifty the total registration of last year, and the probability is that this year's registration will climb still higher.

The feature of this year's session is the Spanish School under the direction of Dr. Abel Alarcon. This group has taken over the Epsilon house, where they eat and hold classes together. All conversation is carried on in Spanish, and all activity carries a Spanish atmosphere.

Teachers in service and students attempting to make up regular semester deficiencies compose the greater part of the student body. Courses in Education are among the most popular.

A number of outstanding lecturers will be present at different times during the session and speak to the Summer School as a whole and to particular classes. Included in this group are Dr. Lincoln Wirt of the National Council for the Prevention of War, Mr. Vierling Kiersey, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. Leonard W. Mayo, Dean of the National Training School for Institution Executives, and Mrs. Anna L. Saylor, Chief of the State Social Welfare Commission.

Dr. Roy W. Kelly, '11 Elected President of Association

Dr. Roy Willmarth Kelly, '11, was elected president of the Pacific Alumni Association at the Alumni Day banquet Saturday, June 8. Other officers include Mrs. Edith MacKerricher Tibbetts, '05, vice-president; Miss Berniece Fiola, '28, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Lorraine Knoles, '21, Mr. Harold A. Noble, '16, Mr. James Corson, '27, and Mr. N. M. Parsons, '02.

Dr. Kelly received his M. A. and Ph. D. from Harvard and has held positions as an industrial engineer with the Associated Oil Company, the Southern Pacific Company, and with the Crown-Willamette Paper Company, with which he is now connected.

Mrs. Tibbetts is a conservatory graduate and resides in Berkeley. She is greatly interested in Camp Fire work, and in work among foreign students at the University of California. She has traveled extensively, and has held many executive positions.

Miss Fiola is a resident of Stockton and a graduate with the class of 1928. While in school, she was editor of the Pacific Weekly and a member of the All College Honor Society. She has done extensive secretarial work and brings to the office a great deal of experience in the type of work the position demands.

Amendment Adopted

Besides the election of officers, the following amendment to the Constitution was adopted:

"The annual dues shall be two dollars and fifty cents for each calendar year, which shall include a subscription to the Alumni magazine, provided that in a household where there is already one full membership, additional memberships, not including a subscription to the Alumni magazine shall be one dollar and fifty cents for each calendar year."

Pacific Graduate to Direct New Albanian University

Elliott Taylor, '28, who has been assisting Dr. Samuel W. Irwin at the Collegio Internazionale Monte Mario of Rome this year, has now been given the position of director of a new school to be established in Albania.

He will leave Rome almost immediately to supervise developments in Albania. The new school, to be known as the American-Albanian University, will be established on 380 acres of land given to Dr. Irwin by King Zogu of Albania for the foundation of an American university.

Besides admitting young men and women for classical instruction, it will train Albanian teachers in American methods of instruction. The university will be supported partly by American church interests and partly by the Albanian government.

Vol. 3 May, 1929 No. 6

Harold S. Jacoby, '28, Editor

Entered as second-class matter September 20, 1928, at the post office at Stockton, California, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

VESTI LA GIUBBA

WORDS are futile when they attempt to describe feelings, and the editor is tempted to forego this attempt at a farewell editorial. But custom weighs so heavily upon him, that to refuse to do so would violate every newspaper tradition.

To him, there is no work in this world quite so important as that of the Pacific Alumni Association. No school deserves the united support of its alumni as does the College of the Pacific. No institution in the United States has quite the possibilities before it as has California's oldest College.

In leaving, it is with a distinct feeling of satisfaction and relief that he knows that the work will be adequately taken care of by Miss Bernice Fiola, the new secretary.

And having confidence in the new secretary, he also has confidence in the constituency which she will serve, that they will support the program of the Association.

And so, while the break is not altogether painless, there is balm in knowing that the most important piece of work in the world will go on, and will be enlarged until the fact of its importance will be recognized by someone other than the Secretary.

THE DEBT IS PAID

NO words have brought greater joy to the hearts of those who are vitally interested in the growth and welfare of Pacific than those which were uttered a few short days ago—"The debt is paid."

Climaxing seven long years of struggle, tension, and near-heart-breaking experiences, they turn what might have been a swan song for the college into a joyous rhapsody.

But continuing our musical metaphor a bit further, let us not imagine that the selection we have just heard is one complete in itself. Instead it is but the prelude to a great symphony, the rest of which lies with the future. As with the part to which we have just listened, there will be a chance for us to display our creative genius in the composition of that which is to come.

There is need for more endowment, for buildings, for improvements. We are probably past the day of intensive campaigns, such as we have just passed through, but there is still need for loyalty and support, both spiritual and financial.

A great barrier has been successfully cleared and an objective gained. Let us not stop, but look forward to the future and its needs.

AFTER ONE YEAR

WITH but one short year behind it, the reorganized Alumni Association has reason to feel proud of itself and of the work that has been accomplished.

In this period of time, the addresses of approximately eight hundred former students of the college have been added to the lists. A great many of the lost alumni have been found, and although a few have dropped from sight this year, there are fewer for whom the office has no address at this time than there were a year ago.

An adequate system has been worked out whereby information regarding alumni may be kept up to date with a minimum of expense and energy. Charts and files have been worked out, listing the alumni alphabetically, geographically and chronologically.

Two general meetings and several local meetings have been held this year with fair success. More and more, the older alumni are being made to feel at home on the Stockton campus, and are feeling a desire to return at least once a year.

The magazine is very much as it has been, although probably a bit newsier. This is the field that will witness the greatest change during the coming years.

So, in all, we do not need to apologize for this year's work. There is still much to be done, it is true, but a start has been made, and the alumni have responded nobly. With time, and greater support, Pacific is bound to have as loyal a group of alumni as is to be found in connection with any college.

Balls Celebrate Anniversary by Opening New Carmel Hotel

"La Ribera," a new hotel of Spanish style at Carmel, was formally opened July 3rd by Mr. and Mrs. John S. Ball, who had charge of the dining hall until a year ago.

The date of the opening was particularly significant for Mr. and Mrs. Ball because it will mark their 40th wedding anniversary.

It is a very beautiful hotel, located in one of Carmel's picturesque settings and an exceptionally hospitable welcome awaits all Pacific people there.

Ex-'15 Mrs. Evangeline L. Halleck is now at the U. S. Naval Air Station at Lakehurst, N. J. Her husband is associated with the naval air service.

Third European Tour Plans Trips to Music Centers

Members of the third Pacific summer school tour left Stockton June 21 to participate in a trip very carefully planned by Dr. William J. Harris, head of the educational department and director of this tour.

"See America first" is the motto of this year's tour which will include visits at such places as Salt Lake City, Chicago, Niagara Falls, Montreal and Quebec. The party sailed from Montreal on June 27 and expects to visit all the outstanding places of interest in England, Holland, France, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia and Italy.

Dr. Harris and Professor Allan Bacon, head of the organ department and assistant director of this tour, will lecture en route on appreciation of music, history of music, history and appreciation of art, European schools and historical landmarks.

He and Mrs. Allen will remain in Europe for six months, so that he may study in England, France and Germany in preparation for his thesis for a Ph. D. degree. The other members of the group will return to California about the middle of September.

Kroeck's Findings In Paris Herald

The Paris Herald, an American Daily published in France, recognized the importance of the work of Louis S. Kroeck, '96, Professor of Biology, who has made recent discoveries which confirm the theory that a race of giant men once inhabited the San Joaquin Valley, and ran an item concerning these findings. Professor Kroeck has made a very intensive study of the skeletons excavated in this part of the state, and his theory has been corroborated by other noted scientists.

Mrs. Edythe Dungan, who has been touring in Europe since last summer, sent the clipping containing the news which attracted the attention of foreign editors.

Conservatory Dean Spends Fifth Summer at S. F. State

Charles M. Dennis, dean of the conservatory of music, is spending his fifth summer in San Francisco as an instructor at the San Francisco State Teachers' College summer session.

Dean Dennis will conduct classes there in choral technique, voice production, and problems of high school music besides having private classes in voice.

'04 Thomas V. Cator recently composed the music for the selection "A Pool of Quietness."

Teachers Recieve Positions Through Placement Bureau

A very high percentage of credential holders have been placed in teaching positions by the Pacific Placement Bureau, according to Miss Grace Carter, director of the bureau. Every year this percentage increases, and the demand for Pacific graduates is greater.

Pacific Alumnus Awarded German Study Fellowship

Dr. Samuel S. Kistler, Ex. '21, who has been with the chemistry department since 1921, has been granted a German-American Student Exchange to the University of Berlin and Goettingen University of Germany.

Professor Kistler will spend the winter semester at the University of Berlin, and the summer semester at Goettingen University, where he will do research on problems in colloidal chemistry as well as collect material for a book on "non-aqueous solutions." The fellowship includes a certain amount of traveling in Europe which will afford him an opportunity to investigate methods and progress in the chemistry field there.

At this year's commencement, Professor Kistler received his Ph. D. degree from Stanford.

He has been given a leave of absence from the college faculty and will depart about July 1st to be away approximately fifteen months.

'27 C. Ernest Davis has been elected President of Mount Morris College, Mount Morris, Illinois. Davis took his M. A. work during the year '26-'27.

Dear Member:

If you paid your dues before last October 1st, your membership and subscription expires with this issue. You will receive notice of the expiration later in the summer, but it will be of great help if you will send in your new year's dues right away.

This year we have paid off one or two back debts, and have more than broken even. Another year, with a larger revenue, we will be able to undertake a larger program, and serve you better. You can help us by urging other alumni whom you know to join the association at once.

Sincerely,
THE SECRETARY.

Many Faculty Changes For Coming Semester

Ambitions for higher degree, extended study, and travel seem to be the principal causes for changes in the personnel of the faculty for next year.

Mrs. Margaret Wynne, who has been Associate Professor of Biology since 1924, is leaving on a year's tour of Europe. Her place will be filled by Mr. Alden H. Noble, a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan, who is completing work for his Ph. D. degree at the University of California.

Dr. Harold Hodge of the University of Iowa and former associate of Professor Jonte's, is to take the place of Dr. Samuel S. Kistler, who has a leave of absence to study abroad.

The vacancy caused by the death of Ivy Bernice Wilkinson will be filled by Dr. Kirby Johnson of the chemistry department of the University of Washington.

Hilton F. Lusk, assistant professor of engineering, has accepted a position with the Boeing School of Aeronautics at Oakland airport, where he will be an instructor in aviation. He taught several courses in aeronautics in addition to those in engineering, and it is because of his splendid work in aviation at the college that he has received this appointment at the new Oakland aviation school.

New Engineering Instructor

An honor student and graduate of the California School of Technology at Pasadena, George T. Harness has been recommended by the President of that institution, Dr. Robert A. Millikan, to succeed Professor Lusk. Mr. Harness received his M. A. degree from the Pasadena school and has been teaching there since his graduation.

Dwayne Orton has been appointed Instructor in public speaking and debating in place of Philip S. Broughton, who has been awarded a Cowles Fellowship in the department of economics, sociology and government at Yale University.

Mr. Orton was an instructor in oratory at Baylor College in Belton, Texas, last year and possesses an outstanding record as a debate coach and instructor of public speaking. He is a graduate of the University of Redlands, where he achieved scholastic and academic success, and holds membership in Pi Kappa Delta, a national honorary forensic society.

Bernice Fiola, '28, will teach the courses in journalism, which were also under the direction of Mr. Broughton.

'03 Frederick H. Tibbetts was recently selected by the City of Stockton to act as consulting engineer for the Stockton Flood Control Project.

Announcement Made of Gifts to College

A number of valuable gifts have been received by the College during the past year, according to Dr. John L. Burcham, who made the announcement of the gifts at the graduation exercises.

Among the gifts are twelve volumes for the college library, presented by Miss Helen Hartley of Stockton. Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Arndt presented eighty-six volumes during the year and Rev. W. C. Robins of Campbell gave nine books with the statement that a dozen additional volumes would follow.

The engineering department was presented with an airplane valued at $4000, the gift of T. F. Baxter, who also gave a $1000 hangar. The Western Harvester Company gave a Wisconsin motor valued at $675, the Richfield Oil Company contributed $50 worth of gasoline and H. F. Lusk gave a $60 scholarship to the first woman student in aviation.

From Miss Mary Bannister, in New York City, daughter of the first president of the college and its most generous supporter, came $200, while gifts for the improvement of the campus include seventy ornamental trees from members of the faculty, two laurel trees from L. D. Smith of Stockton, the flood lighting system in front of the conservatory from the class of 1926, with plans for flood lights in the conservatory tower from the class of 1929. Members of the Alpha Chi Delta fraternity have placed a tree on the campus in memory of Prof. George L. Lawrence, late member of their organization.

Pacific Men At Berkeley Meet of Amer. Assoc. of Sci.

Pacific was well represented this year by five of its professors at the joint meeting of the Pacific and Southwestern divisions of the American Association for the Advancement of Science held at the University of California, Berkeley, June 19-22.

At the general session for all chemists, Samuel S. Kistler, associate professor of chemistry, reported on "A new equation of state for high pressures." Harry Enwicht, Ex. '26, who is now doing work at Stanford, also read a paper at one of the sessions.

Professor C. E. Corbin, registrar and professor of mathematics, represented Pacific at the meetings of the American Mathematical Society which were held in conjunction with the A.A.A.S.

The other professors who attended this conclave were John H. Jonte, professor of chemistry and geology; Louis S. Kroeck, professor of biology, and Ernest E. Stanford, professor of botany and zoology.

Dean Barr Tours Europe With Ex-Gov. Richardson

Miss C. Marian Barr, Dean of Women, left June 24th with former Governor and Mrs. Friend W. Richardson of California for an extensive summer tour in Europe. Miss Barr decided just a few days previous to her departure that she would make the trip this summer.

The itinerary of the trip includes such points of interest as the Mediterranean, Spain, Italy, Norway and England. One of the particular features of the tour lies in the expectation to visit each of the capitals in the various European countries.

Pacific to Meet Williamette U. In First Intersectional Game

New Conference Competition Enlivens Race For Championship

Playing the first intersectional game in the history of the school, the Pacific Varsity football team will engage in a grid contest with Willamette University of Salem, Oregon, on Armistice Day, the feature event of the American Legion celebration in Stockton. This game is the high point of the schedule recently completed which includes Modesto J. C., Chico State, Sacramento J. C., California Aggies, San Jose State, University of Nevada, Humboldt State and Fresno State.

Coach Righter will have an almost intact group of veterans for the back-field positions. "Moose" Disbrow, giant fullback; Fay Loveridge, fleet half; Jimmy Countryman, shifty half; Paul Crandall, light but heavy-hitting half, and two midget quarterbacks, Gar Willmarth and Bruce Henley, are the most outstanding candidates. Besides, he will have McCann, Bowman and Van Dyke, stars from last year's freshman squad, to use.

Strong Line

A great loss was felt with the graduation of the mainstays of last year's linemen, but with Heath, Barron, Carpenter, Francis and probably Hubbard out for the end positions; Cobine, Berry, K. Smith, L. Smith and Frugoli as tackles; Root, Keyston, Tollstrup and Burwell as guards, and Sawyer and Tregoning at center, Pacific will have a group of players who will rank with the best in the conference.

Last year, Pacific lost but one conference game. This year two new teams have been added to the conference, San Jose and Chico, and two have withdrawn, St. Mary's and St. Ignatius. There are five conference games on the schedule this year, and every effort is being expended to equal or better last year's record.

Harold Cunningham, '25, again will assist Coach Righter in training the Bengals.

Freshman Squad

Nothing is known of the strength of the 1929 freshman team, but it is expected to be stronger than last year's squad. Jim "Hippo" Corson, '27, former Pacific athlete and American Olympic star, has been signed to coach the yearlings.

Faculty-Student Committee Plans Frosh Welcome

Freshman week will be held for the fifth time this Fall, according to an announcement of Dean Fred L. Farley, chairman of the Faculty-Student committee on admissions. Pacific is the only western college to maintain the Freshman week plan.

Preceding the regular opening of the college all Freshmen registering for the first time appear one week early for consultation with the faculty and initiation into the mysteries of the library, living quarters and other details of college life. General announcements and matriculation examinations are also given at this time to avoid the rush of regular registration week.

Schedule for Week

The following schedule has been arranged for the first week of the class of 1933:

Tuesday, September 10: a meeting in the college auditorium where general announcements will be made, matriculation examination in English, and a rally and the learning of songs and yells in the evening.

Wednesday, September 11: Class lectures with the heads of various departments giving talks to the freshmen; a meeting for the purpose of explaining the objectives of the various organizations on the campus in the afternoon; and in the evening an informal meeting and dinner, followed by a talk from President Knoles.

Thursday, September 12: Registration of all freshmen, a talk to music majors by Dean Dennis, and an informal reception by Mrs. Tully C. Knoles.

Friday, September 13: the College Aptitude examination followed by afternoon and evening entertainment offered the freshmen by the Y. M. C. A.

Saturday, September 14: "Orange and Black" day, the main feature being the Freshmen-Sophomore tie-up in the stadium. This culminates the freshman week of activities prior to the opening of classes.

On Monday, September 16, classes will begin officially, and in the evening there will be a general college reception in Social Hall.

Freshmen Are Orientated

This week is to be one of intense activity and interest and it is for the benefit of every freshman who is contemplating attending Pacific to be present during this week before the opening of regular classes. It enables him to get acquainted with himself as well as others and the friends he makes during this week will probably be his friends through college. Then when the actual class work begins, the freshman doesn't feel quite as "lost" as he would had he not made any acquaintances or friends or acquainted himself with the surroundings.

Prof. Schilpp Assistant To Viennese Philosopher

Paul A. Schilpp, Professor of Philosophy at Pacific, is the assistant to Dr. Moritz Schlick from the University of Vienna in the Philosophy Department at Stanford for the summer quarter.

Professor Schilpp has already completed his year of residence in connection with his work for a Ph. D. degree, and during the summer he expects to be able to finish his dissertation so that he will receive his degree at the close of this quarter.

Pacific Profs Plan Profuse Program Of Publications

"Do We Need a New Religion?" is the title of a new book written by Professor Paul A. Schilpp which will be off the press next month. It is being published by the Henry Holt Company.

Although he has written a number of articles to magazines and has contributed chapters to such books as "Recent Gains in Western Civilization" by Kirby Page, this is Professor Schilpp's first complete publication.

A new book by Dr. Ernest E. Stanford, Professor of Botany, has just been published by the Century Company of New York. The volume is a travel and adventure story entitled "The Mascot Goes Across." The book is addressed primarily to boys of the teen age, but it is rumored that some of the other sex and also grave members of the faculty have been seen perusing it late into the night.

The "Mascot" of the story is an ancient Ford sedan, bright red in color, purchased in Boston for the fairly reasonable sum of five dollars. This proved sufficiently road-worthy to carry four lively boys from Boston Harbor to the Golden Gate.

A variety of adventures enliven the tale, and in the brief time that the book has been out it has met with an excellent reception, having been accorded generous praise by Eastern writers. It is expected to make a special appeal to parents who desire a clean, rapidly moving story which has also some informative value for their children.

Bible Drama Text

W. Carleton Wood, associate professor of Bible and Religious Education, has been asked by the Abingdon Press of New York to write a textbook of collegiate grade entitled "The Dramatic Method in Religious Education." This book is one of the series of textbooks which this company is preparing to publish in the next few months.

Moreover, this same company, after carefully examining several of Professor Wood's religious plays, offers to publish them with a request for others, the aim of the collection to meet the needs of ministers who wish to secure good plays of this sort for features in Sunday evening worship programs.

Professor Wood has the faculty of making the literature and drama of the Bible live, contemporary and majestic and his method of interpreting and teaching religion through the dramatic approach brings out the dynamic characteristics of the great dramatic and literary Biblical epics.

Stockton Rallies

Stockton rallied to the support of the school as she has never done before. Forgetting differences, and putting aside other interests, she did more than was expected of her.

To every member of the Staff, credit must be given: To President Knoles, Vice-President Burcham, Dr. W. F. Bigler, Dr. Adam C. Bane, N. M. Parsons, Dr. A. C. Stevens, Senator L. L. Dennett, Thomas F. Baxter and Eugene L. Wilhoit.

"The greatest hurdle we have met has been cleared," said Dr. Knoles when the news of victory reached him. "Although we will meet finance problems in the future, there never will be one such as we have just conquered."

Ex-'17 Beulah Job is now Mrs. Beulah J. Holbrook, and she is living at Clovis, California.

Bane '81, Elected College V-P. for Finance Work

Dr. A. C. Bane, '81, district superintendent of the Oakland district, has just been appointed Vice-President of the College to work and cooperate with Dr. John L. Burcham, who is now Executive Vice-President, in building up an endowment for Pacific. A part of his work will be to sell Pacific to the church people of California and he will occupy pulpits throughout the state on Sundays during the year.

To Dr. Bane belongs the credit for the infancy of the movement to bring the College to Stockton when it became known that it was to move from San Jose. It was through him that the Smith heirs presented the campus and he called the first public meeting in Stockton which launched the campaign in a public way to bring the college here.

Dr. Bane's zeal and untiring energy and devotion to the cause of Christian education assure his success in his new task. The necessity for such an endowment is emphasized by the fact that it costs the college a thousand dollars more to graduate a student than the student's tuition.

He will continue his residence in Berkeley and his chief field of operation will be in the Bay Region.

Pacific Grads Given University Fellowships

Clarence Quick of Parlier, the only student of the class of '28 to graduate with highest honors, has received a fellowship in Botany at the University of California upon the recommendation of Pres. Tully C. Knoles, Dr. Ernest E. Stanford, Professor of Botany, and others under whom he has studied.

He will be an assistant in the Botany laboratory, will act as a reader for several courses in the Department, and will also take some work toward a Master's Degree. His work will begin at the opening of the Fall semester at the University.

Victor Hunt, '29, who graduated with high honors, has received a readership in European History from the History Department of the University of California.

Such readerships are given to students of high scholarship. This appointment is made with the prospects of being raised during the year to a teaching fellowship.

Floyd "Rusty" Russell, '29, who majored in chemistry, will take a position next year at the University of Arizona as a fellow in the chemistry department.
